A Tale of Triumph

The entire nation watched in awe as Lucky crossed the finish line, his hooves thundering with the power of a thousand horses. It was a defining moment, a testament to his extraordinary journey and indomitable spirit.

From that day forward, Lucky Star became a living legend in the world of horse racing. He continued to dominate the racing scene, accumulating wins and breaking records, solidifying his place among the greatest Thoroughbreds in history.

While Seabiscuit is perhaps the best-known Thoroughbred in history, Charles S. Howard owned another remarkable racehorse that should never be forgotten. Irish-bred Noor dominated the 1950 racing season, setting world records in victories over Citation and winning the Hollywood Gold Cup by defeating a Triple Crown winner, the Horse of the Year and the previous year's Kentucky Derby winner. Sadly, that fame faded as he failed to sire champions, and Noor was buried in an unmarked grave in Northern California decades later. Veteran turf writer Milt Toby recounts Noor's colorful career and the inspiring story of racing enthusiast Charlotte Farmer's personal mission to exhume the Thoroughbred's remains for reburial in central Kentucky years after the horse was inducted into the hall of fame.
