Ouray is miraculous. Being touched by the magic of this beautiful place is my motivation to share the experience.

I was blessed to grow up in a beautiful town, raised by a loving family during an amazing time of global change. Shared experiences are an exceptional way for us all to learn, grow, and be entertained. I hope you enjoy the stories as much as I enjoyed writing them.

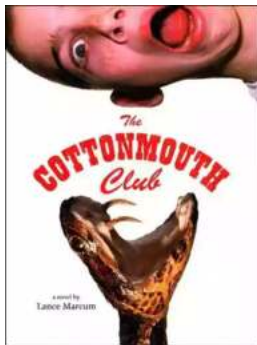

The book is a collection of shared experiences growing up with friends and family in a small San Juan Mountain town. I promise these recollections were written from a place in my heart where love lives. I loved growing up in Ouray. After all, the name of Ouray could well be “Magic.”

This book has been written to encourage others to reflect and share experiences of growing up, wherever that may have been. If you are interested in writing your “Book of Memories,” I provide the service and would love to get to know you and help share your memories.
