MRS MARSHALL IS A SPY

From his very first job of sleeping with the neighbour's wife for a shilling a week, through his love of riding and dreams of becoming a jockey, to a lie that grew out of control, Merv takes us on a rollicking journey through his growing years in the Western Downs Queensland town of Mitchell in the 1930s and 40s.

Long-remembered characters of that time and place help to paint a vivid picture of life in a small country town. This volume ends - along with Merv's childhood - in the early 1950s with the story of his innocent first love, and his first French kiss.

A look back at a time that is fast fading into history, but brought to vivid life with characters the like of which are no longer to be found in modern Australia. You will enjoy getting to know them all.

Of great value as a touching personal memoir, a social history of the times, and a thoroughly entertaining read.
