As the prohibition era came to an end, these races began to transition into organized events held on dirt tracks.

One of the earliest and most influential figures in stock car racing was Bill France Sr. In 1947, France founded the National Association for Stock Car Auto Racing (NASCAR), which would go on to become the governing body for the sport. France played a pivotal role in shaping the professionalization of stock car racing, introducing formal rules and regulations that would ensure fair competition.
