However, what sets this crossing apart from any other is its brilliant display of colors. As you pedal along on your bike, you will witness an array of vibrant colors painted across the surface of the bridge. The hues blend harmoniously, creating a mesmerizing kaleidoscope effect that seems straight out of a dream.

The crossing gets its name from the breathtaking rainbow-like patterns that form when sunlight reflects off the water droplets splashing around the bridge. It's a sight that truly needs to be seen to be believed.

The Adventure Begins

After preparing our bicycles and packing our camera bags, our journey starts at the base of the magnificent Southern Alps. The crisp mountain air fills our lungs as we pedal our way towards the enchanting rainbow shimmering in the distance.

The cycling route takes us through lush green meadows, past grazing sheep, and charming small towns. The scenery is straight out of a postcard, with towering snow-capped mountains serving as the backdrop for our adventures.

Along the way, we have the opportunity to interact with the friendly locals, who share fascinating tales about the crossing and the surrounding areas. Their warm hospitality and genuine love for their land make the experience even more memorable.

We make frequent stops to capture the beauty of our surroundings through the lens of our cameras. The landscapes are so stunning that it's impossible to resist getting off our bikes and cherishing the moment. From panoramic mountain views to cascading waterfalls, each shot is a work of art in itself.

A Thrilling Challenge

As we approach the Rainbow Crossing, excitement and anticipation fill the air. The closer we get, the more vibrant the colors become, as if nature is welcoming us with open arms.

Crossing the bridge on our bikes is an exhilarating experience. The colors beneath us shift and change, creating a dynamic tapestry that seems to dance with every pedal stroke.

Pedaling across the Rainbow Crossing requires balance and skill, as the colors change rapidly and unpredictably. It's a thrilling challenge that adds an element of adrenaline to our adventure.

Capturing the Magic

With our cameras in hand, we aim to immortalize the enchanting beauty of the Rainbow Crossing. Every click of the shutter captures a different virescence of colors, creating a visual symphony that will forever remain etched in our memories.

We experiment with different angles, viewpoints, and settings to capture the essence of this extraordinary natural phenomenon. The challenge lies in doing justice to the breathtaking experience and transferring it onto a static image.

As the sun sets on the horizon, casting a warm glow over the rainbow hues, we realize that our journey is coming to an end. We take our final photographs, savoring the last moments of this incredible adventure.

Come join me for this 50-image photo journal as I cycle and hike across New Zealand. In this 18th volume I will be cycling through the desolate alpine valleys of the Rainbow Crossing to Hanmer Springs. We will be pedaling for three days against ice-cold headwinds, across hand-numbing corrugated-rough gravel roads, while battling fierce sandflies at our campsites, and then being rewarded with a soak in the Hanmer Hot Springs. I hope you enjoy these images and travel thoughts as much as I did photographing them and living the adventure.
