Extraordinary Tales of Feline Adventures

Throughout Sarah's extensive career as a cat sitter, she has encountered numerous fascinating experiences with her furry clients. From heartwarming tales to unexpected adventures, the world of cat sitting is filled with surprises.

Oliver, the Adventure-Seeking Tabby

One remarkable story involves Oliver, a fearless tabby cat with a penchant for exploration. Oliver's owner, Mr. Johnson, contacted Sarah to take care of his mischievous friend while he went on a business trip.

Little did Mr. Johnson know that Oliver had a secret escape plan in place. Despite Sarah's best efforts to keep him entertained, Oliver managed to find a way out through a slightly open window. Sarah panicked, fearing that she had lost her client's cherished companion.

Days turned into sleepless nights as Sarah searched tirelessly for Oliver. Eventually, she received a call from a concerned neighbor who had spotted a tabby wandering nearby. With relief flooding her heart, Sarah rushed over and, sure enough, it was Oliver! This curious cat had gone on a neighborhood adventure while pretending to be a detective.

Misty and Bella, the Unlikely Duo

Misty and Bella, two strikingly different cats, were Sarah's most charming clients to date. Misty, a graceful Siamese, and Bella, a playful Maine Coon, were initially cautious around each other.

During her visits, Sarah noticed their curiosity slowly bringing them closer. She introduced interactive toys and encouraged joint playtime, turning their occasional hisses into playful purrs. By the end of Mr. Anderson's vacation, Misty and Bella had formed an everlasting bond, much to his surprise and joy.

Practical Advice from a Cat Whisperer

Alongside her enchanting stories, Sarah Thompson is eager to share her practical wisdom for fellow cat lovers. Below are some valuable tips she has gathered throughout her years as a cat sitter:

Creating a Safe and Stimulating Environment

When cats are left alone, it's important to ensure they have a safe and stimulating environment. Sarah advises providing climbing towers, scratching posts, and interactive toys to keep them entertained. Additionally, leaving a couple of articles of clothing with your scent can offer comfort to your feline companion.

Easing Separation Anxiety

Cats can experience separation anxiety when their owners are away. Sarah suggests leaving a radio or television on to provide background noise and make them feel less lonely. Additionally, spending quality time with them before and after your departure can help ease their anxiety.

The Art of Playtime

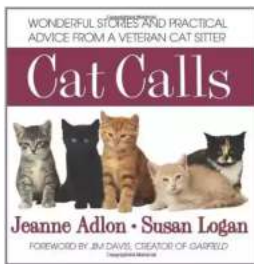

Playtime is crucial for a cat's well-being. Sarah recommends engaging in interactive play sessions using toys such as feather wands or laser pointers. This not only provides physical exercise but also stimulates their natural hunting instincts.

The Rewards of Cat Sitting

Sarah's career as a cat sitter has been immensely fulfilling. The love and appreciation she receives from her furry clients, along with the friendships built with their owners, make it an incredibly rewarding profession.

Being there for cats during their owners' absence and creating joyful experiences is what keeps Sarah passionate about her work. Every cat she takes care of becomes a part of her extended family, and she considers herself incredibly fortunate to have found her calling as a veteran cat sitter.

The captivating stories and invaluable advice shared by veteran cat sitter Sarah Thompson have surely left you enchanted. If you ever find yourself in need of a cat sitter, you now know where to turn for the utmost care and affection for your feline friends.

Cat Calls

Thirty-five years ago, Jeanne Adlon became New York City's first full-time cat sitter, and since then, she has seen and done it all. Jeanne has dodged tarantulas, served up kosher cat meals, and fed pampered felines in Waterford crystal goblets—all while trekking from five-floor walkups to Park Avenue penthouses. She even cared for television critic Cleveland Amory's beloved cat, Polar Bear. Cat Calls delightfully recounts Jeanne's many experiences, from comic adventures with quirky cats to the challenges faced by a woman who's determined to reach her clients despite midsummer blackouts and blinding snowstorms.

But since Jean Adlon is no ordinary cat sitter, Cat Calls offers far more than tales of the cat. Over years of devoting herself to the needs of felines, Jeanne has become a recognized expert on cat care, and her book is designed not just to entertain but also to share valuable information and advice. Along with coauthor and Cat Fancy magazine editor Susan Logan, Jeanne has designed each of Cat Calls' seven chapters to focus on important issues for cat owners, including adopting new pets, feeding your cat, coping with litter box problems, providing proper medical care, and much more. Within these pages, you'll find priceless tips for keeping your kitty happy and healthy, and, just as important, for maintaining your sanity even when your feline friend decides to use the new Louis XVI dining room set as a glorified scratching post. Anecdotes about Jeanne's furry clients add charm, humor, and specific examples of cat-care strategies that work.

Whether you're looking for commonsense cat-care advice or you simply want to relax with stories about little cats in a big city, Cat Calls is sure to please.
